

EnCase(R) eDiscovery Awarded Contract by Transport for London

PASADENA, Calif., Dec 15, 2008 (BUSINESS WIRE) --

Guidance Software Inc. (NASDAQ:GUID), the World Leader in Digital Investigations(TM), has been awarded a contract by Transport for London (TfL), the integrated body responsible for London's transport system, to use EnCase(R) enterprise technology for fraud, data audits and eDiscovery, beginning in January 2009.

Guidance Software's EnCase platform provides the foundation for enterprises and government agencies to conduct thorough, network-enabled, and court-validated digital investigations, such as responding to eDiscovery requests, conducting internal investigations, responding to regulatory inquiries or performing data and compliance auditing, while maintaining the integrity of the data.

"We are honored to be working with Transport for London," said Victor Limongelli, President and CEO of Guidance Software. "Guidance Software's EnCase platform and EnCase eDiscovery is a system that reduces fraud, significantly lowers the time and cost associated with investigations, decreases risk through better data management and allows customers to address compliance issues with regulators."

About Guidance Software (GUID)
